SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: The 1999 Survey of Educational Benefits Usage (SEBU).

Type of Review: New collection.

Abstract: The Government Performance and Results Act of 1993 (CIPRA) is the primary impetus for VA to conduct a formal evaluation of its major education programs. The purpose of the survey is to obtain information that is relevant to assessing the effectiveness and efficiency of three education programs administered by VA: Montgomery GI Bill (Title 38, Chapter 30); Montgomery GI Bill for Selected Reserves (Title 10, Chapter 1606); and Dependents' Education Assistance (Title 38, Chapter 35). The data gathered from individuals eligible to participate in the program will provide the basis from which VA will analyze and determine the extent to which each program meets its statutory intent and the expectations of veterans, legislators, school officials and program officials. The data will also provide information that may be used to help examine how well the programs are poised to meet the needs of veterans in the early 21st century and identify how best to meet these needs. The data will provide the basis that will allow VA to further develop and improve its strategy to continue to deliver the best possible educational benefits and services at the least cost.
